

Remarkable

Theatre presents

have a go at me and i cant be bothered with that. i dont know what to do and i dont know why, when shes there he basically just blinks me and acts as though im not going out with him, but when shes not there, he holds me and kisses me and stuff like that, i prefer so much when shes not around, but cant tell her this as shes my best friend what should i do?

I have a boyfriend and I have been with him for 6 months. I dont know what the relationship is. I have really liked him about it, but now it seems as though he doesn't want to know me, and I feel like his love for me is fading.

I have tried to let him know on how I feel but every time it just leads to us arguing and he tells me I'm wrong. I really don't know what to do.

I have been with him for 6 weeks and I have talked to him about it though girls.

He has been with me for a while and I have been with him for a while. I have been with him for a while and he has been with me for a while.

He can't help falling in love with me before I realise he turns on me and he cry a lot and he often pretended to be in tears.

SECRET BRIDESMAID'S BUSINESS

By Elizabeth Coleman

"If you had a secret this big, could you keep it?"

gradually he thinks he he wants to control me and boss me around he always tells me to control everthing i trys to control the situation telling me how much i can spend on things with my own money and when i try to break up with him he just crys and tells me we are happy speaking for me and all i tell him everyday that im not happy im not in love with him no more im want to be able to control my own situation and have him realise that he always doubts me. THIS!!! i feel soo trapped im soo depressed, i do love him in the sense tht i dont want anyone to be with him after me. i wish he had been a little more mature so that he could have talk to me about things and understand that we have problems that he should not just dismiss all the time
